IN THIS SPOON FEED these little reservoirs

are the feature that make

Waterman's IDEAL Fountain Pen

The Only SCIENTIFIC Pen Made

The Spoon Feed gives a uniform flow of ink from the barrel to the point of the pen. It prevents the flood or blot of ink caused by the heat of the hand expanding the air in the barrel. The ink displaced by expansion settles into the Feed Pockets and is resorted back to the reservoir. Overflow is impossible; still, there will always be the correct supply of ink to feed the point just as fast or as slow as your writing requires. The perfection of this exclusive patent makes Waterman's Ideal the universally used writing implement of the present day. There are other flat feeds but not Spoon Feeds.

Order, Daughters of the Empire and of special comte. thereof for caring for Can. soldiers' graves in S.A., 1902; V.-P. Can. Immigration Guild, 1910), d. Marcus Holmes, London, Ont.; barrister, 1861; successfully practised his prof. for many yrs. at London; later at Toronto; was for some time a partner of late Thos. Scatcherd, Q.C., M.P.; became one of the leaders of the Provl. bar; became city solr., and also a bencher of the Law Soc.; K.C. (Ont.), 1875; do. (Marquis of Lorne), 1880; hon. mem. Law Faculty, Toronto Univ., 1888; removed to Toronto, where he was apptd. Corporation Counsel and head of the city's legal dept., do.; a senator, Toronto Univ., 1895; has been chancellor, do., since 1900; during his professional career was engd. in many important cases, both criminal and civil, including the mysterious Biddulph murder case and the McCabe poisoning case, in both of which he specially distinguished himself; was first elected to the Legislature, 1872, succeeding Sir John Carling (q.v.), who withdrew from Provl. politics, in the representation of London; he is said to have immediately become a power in the House; he took a firm stand on the side of the workingman, and was one of the first advocates of manhood suffrage, which he took up in 1875; his name was also identified with the legislation by which wages to the amount of $25 were exempted from seizure, with the Mechanics' Lien Act, with the Workingmen's Compensation for Injuries Act, with the question of biennial parlts., and other measures of a similar character; he was elected leader of the Opposition in 1878, succeeding the late Sir M. C. Cameron, who was raised to the bench while holding that position; his promotion was long a foregone conclusion, as his colleagues had recognized his great strength in the country and his accurate knowledge of political affairs; not long after this event the boundary award was made, and the agitation which immediately arose rendered his task a difficult one; the discussion between the parties was a heated one, and it was endeavoured to cast upon him the onus of having supported the claims of the Dom. as against those of the Province; he insisted, after the rejection of the award by the Dom. Parlt., that the question be submitted to the Privy Council, and the event ultimately proved his contention to have been correct, and the course he had proposed the only safe one that could have been taken; in the disallowance agitation of 1882, he again appeared to be on the unpopular side; he, however, did not hesitate to affirm the conviction that a strong central govt. was vitally necessary to a strong confederation, and to deprecate any efforts on the part of provl. govts. to weaken it for selfish ends; throughout the reverses he met with at the polls, he never abandoned this principle; he also took strong ground on the question of education; he enunciated the principle that to place a political head over the education dept. is to make it a political machine, and so greatly lessen its influence for good; during his last campaign he, on many occasions, expressed his views on this matter; he fought for a ballot in the Separate schs., and against the exercising of undue clerical influence in educational matters; his newspaper discussion with the late Archbp. Cleary attracted wide attention, and to a great extent defined the line of cleavage between the parties; his opinions in this connection are too well known to need repetition here; the last session he passed in the Legislature was marked by a number of stirring debates, during which he often displayed an intimacy with the smallest details of departmental expenditure, and at the same time a comprehensive grasp of the legislation before the House, which astonished even his intimate friends; in 1883 he was presented by his party friends in the Legislature with a solid silver service, as an acknowledgment of his eminent public services; a more signal tribute to his talents and services was paid by the Govt. itself in making provision for a salary of $2,000 a year to him as leader of the Opposition; this, however, he declined to receive; he was raised to the Bench as Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Div. of the High Ct. of Justice of Ont., Oct. 5, 1894; one of the first cases tried by him was that of Hendershott and Welter for murder, both of whom were convicted and afterwards executed; in 1896 was apptd. a mem. of the comn. for the revision of the Provl. statutes; and again, in 1906; was named as a mem. of the Royal Comn. of investigation into the affairs of Toronto Univ., 1905, and a commr. to report upon laws relating to the liability of employers to make compensation to employees for injuries, which are in force in other countries, 1910; among other public positions to which he has been called has been the presidency of the South African Memorial Assn. (1904), and the chairmanship of the Joint Civic Improvement Comte., Toronto (1910); he is also V.-P. of the National Sanitarium Assn.; as a young man he served for some yrs. as an offr. in the London Light Infy.; he received the honour of knighthood from Queen Victoria, 1896; Ang.—4 Lamport Ave., Toronto, Ont.; Toronto Club, do.

Reade, John, poet; essayist; journalist.

Irish origin; s. Joseph and Frances (Smyth) R.; b. Ballyshannon, Co. Donegal, Irel., Nov. 13, 1837; e.

Portora Royal Sch., Enniskillen, and Queen's Coll., Belfast; LL.D. (hon.), Ottawa Univ., 1906; unm.; came to Can., 1856, and assisted by some friends estbd. the Montreal Literary Mag.; later, studied law, but taking up theol., was o., 1864; after serving as a clergyman in the eastern townships and parts adjacent for some yrs., returned to Montreal, where he became connected permanently with the Gazette, and ultimately gave up the ch.; since then his time has been mainly devoted to literature and journalism; has been, since 1870, literary and genl. asst. ed. to the Gazette, writing, in addition a weekly article, or series of articles for that paper, widely read and of much interest, entitled "Old and New"; in the year mentioned published a small volume of verse, which was favorably noticed in the press: "The Prophecy of Merlin, and other Poems"; the late Rev. George Gilfillan gave it a cordial welcome in the Dundee Advertiser, and in a letter to a friend then visiting Montreal, wrote: "Tell your friend R. that I read his poetry with pleasure. It has very considerable spirit and genius"; the Dublin Univ. Mag. pronounced it "in every way worthy of the Land of the Lakes"; the Montreal Witness said it was "one of the prettiest volumes as, perhaps, the sweetest book of fugitive poems which has appeared from the Can. press"; the Can. Journal of Science, Lit. and History, (then edited by the late Rev. Dr. Scadding), the Toronto Globe, the Ch. Herald (Toronto), the Can. Illd. News, the N. Y. World, the Can. Lit. World, the Week (at a later date), and several other periodicals and papers reviewed it most favourably; the volume was abundantly used for anthologies, birthday-books and reading-books in the U. S. as well as in Can.; Longfellow inserted the two poems ("Devenish" and "Killynoogan") in Volume V. (Irel.) of the series of "Poems of Places," of which he was ed.; he likewise wrote a letter of praise to the author, as did also John G. Whittier and Wm. Cullen Bryant; his translations have been commended by Matthew Arnold, the late ed. of the Eco d'Italia, the late Hon. P. J. O. Chauveau, and other scholars; as a prose writer has always cultivated clearness and a certain reserve—giving emphasis to his thought rather by a careful choice of words than by the multiplication of epithets; has always refrained from writing on subjects to which he had not given attention; if he had thought less of his rôle as a journalist he would have contributed more to the mags., but he has always given the first place to the duties that lay nearest at hand; as a reviewer, he has always been conscientious, and many letters from men and women of distinction bear witness to his thoroughness and the soundness of his judgment; his favourite studies (apart from general literature) are philol., ethnol., hist. and folk-lore; with the late Prof. Penhallow, of McGill Univ., he inaugurated the Montreal branch of the Am. Folk-lore Soc., of which, as well as of the Eng. Folk-lore Soc., he has long been a mem.; was presdt. of the Montreal branch in 1894; has been also presdt. of the Soc. of Can. Literature, of the Soc. of Historical Studies, and the Second Sec. (Eng. Lit. and Hist.) of the Royal Soc. of Can., of which body he was one of the original fellows, selected by the present Duke of Argyll; in 1877 was made an hon. mem. of the Lit. and Hist. Soc. of Quebec, and, in 1895, he contributed a sketch of the late Hon. Sir L. H. Lafontaine, Bart., to the "Memorial Biographies" of the Historic Geneal. Soc. of New Eng.; has also contributed many valuable papers, on historical and literary subjects, to all the socs. of which he is a mem., including the Royal Soc. of Can.; in 1896 was elected a fellow of the Royal Soc. of Lit. of Gt. Brit.; his more noteworthy contributions to the newspaper and periodical press would, if collected, make several volumes; we believe he has long contemplated a series of selections from them, and still hopes to put this much-desired design into execution; although in recent yrs. his muse has been comparatively silent, the little volume of 1870 contains but a fragment of Mr. R.'s poetical writings, and, as even that has long been out of print, we may hope that he will ere long give us another book of poems; Ang.; a devoted Imperialist.—340 Laval Ave., Montreal.

Robertson, John Ross, journalist.

The direct descendant of Duncan R., chief of the clan of Struan Robertson, 1347; e. s. late John R., wholesale dry goods merchant, Toronto, and Margt. R., d. Hector Sinclair, Stornoway, Island of Lewis, Scot.; b. Toronto, Dec. 28, 1841; e. U.C. Coll.; m., 1st, Maria Louisa (d. Aug., 1886), d. Edward Earle Mathew Gillbee, Northamptonshire, Eng.; 2ndly, 1888, Jessie Elizabeth, d. Geo. B. Holland, Toronto; while still at the coll. occupied his spare hours in acquiring a knowledge of the printer's craft; commenced a small office which he estabd. in his father's house, and from which he issued to the boys at school a paper under the name of the College Times, which later took the name of the Boys' Times, a monthly publication that existed 1857-60; he also published during a year at the Model Grammar Sch., Young Canada; picking up a genl. knowledge of his business in city offices, his face was a familiar one in the old Christian Guardian office, the Globe office, the Leader, and others; in 1861 equipped a newspaper and job office, and issued the Sporting Life, devoted to athletic sports, and subsequently continued the publication of the Grumbler, a weekly satirical paper, at one time edited by W. J. Rattray and the late Chief Justice Moss; in 1863-64 he worked on the reportorial and business staff of the Leader, continuing at the same time the management of his printing office; in 1864 he joined the Globe staff, as city ed., and, in 1866, became one of the founders of the Daily Telegraph, a journal that had a high reputation among the newspapers of Can. during the 5 yrs. of its existence; it ceased publication, 1872, Mr. R. then proceeding to London, Eng., where for 3 yrs. he acted as resident correspondent and business representative of the Toronto Daily Globe; on his return to Can., 1875, he assumed the business management of the Nation, edited by the late Prof. Goldwin Smith; in 1876 he estbd. the Evening Telegram, a newspaper which met with wonderful success from its first issue, and which paper he still owns and conducts. "The immediate success of this paper," said the Globe, in a sketch of his career, "is ample evidence that he has graduated from a good sch. of journalism. Neither accident nor luck had aught to do with his success. He launched out in new and original lines, and the good fortune that attended his efforts was the earning of his energy, enthusiasm and experience, reinforced by a persistence and resource that would admit of no failure; it is these qualities that he brings to his every undertaking"; this has been publicly demonstrated by his Masonic career and his able management of that great charity —the Hospital for Sick Children; from the first he has held high rank in the Masonic order; after having served successively as Grand Senior Warden, as Dist. Depty. Grand Master, he became Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Can., 1890, and was subsequently chosen Grand 1st Principal of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Can.; is also Grand Representative of the Grand Lodge of Eng. in Can., having been apptd. to succeed Sir John A. Macdonald in that office on his death, 1891; indeed, every honour at the disposal of his fellow-craftsmen has been accorded him; in Sept., 1902, in commemoration of the coronation of His Majesty King Edward, the Duke of Connaught (q.v.), then and now Grand Master, was pleased to confer the hon. rank of Past Grand Warden of Eng. upon several eminent personages, including the subject of this sketch; was presdt. of the Can. Copyright Assn., upon several occasions, and rendered important services in that regard; has also been V.-P. and presdt. of the Can. Associated Press and presdt. of the Toronto Press Club; is now hon. presdt. of the latter body; elected F.R.C.T., 1906; was previously present, by invitation, in Westminster Abbey, at the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, and was presented to those royal personages at St. James's Palace, July, 1902; apptd. by the Can. Inst. a mem. of the Fleming Electoral Reform movement, 1911; is the author of the "History of the Degrees of the Cryptic Rite in Can.," etc. (1888); of the "History of the Knights Templar of Can. from the foundation of the Order to the present time" (1890); of "Freemasonry in Canada" (1899); of "Talks with Craftsmen" (1893), and of "Robertson's Landmarks of Toronto" (5 vols.); was also a contributor to the U. C. Coll. Memorial Volume, 1893, and has edited "The Diary of Mrs. John Graves Simcoe, wife of the first Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada, 1792-6" (1911), a superb work; is now engaged on a complete history of Masonry in Can.; in 1888 the ambulance system in Toronto was unsatisfactory, and with a view of making it efficient, he imported from London, England, a modern ambulance, fully equipped, and presented it to the city; it marked a new era in this humane work; more recently he gave a collection of 20,000 rare Can. historical pictures to the Toronto Public Library, and has founded and given challenge cups for the promotion of cricket and hockey; but it is as chairman of the bd. of trustees of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, that he will be most gratefully remembered; for many yrs. he has carried the chief burden of this important charitable institution, bringing to its needs not only much money of his own, but aiding it with the full force of his powers as a financier and organizer; at Christmas, 1896, he asked for public subscriptions to the hospital through the Telegram, and in a few weeks $15,000 were subscribed and paid; at a cost of $30,000 he built and founded, in connection with the hospital, the Lakeside Home for Little Children, at Lighthouse Point, Toronto Island, with an accommodation for 150 patients and an entire hospital equipment; here, during the summer mths., the suffering little ones are won back to health and strength with the aid of the cool breezes which sweep across Lake Ont.; this gift has been amplified by further donations amounting to $40,000, a total of $85,000; since then, he has erected, equipped and presented to the hosp., at an additional cost of more than $100,000 (as a memorial of his late wife), a 5-storey nurses' brick residence, containing 150 rooms, which has been declared to be the most perfect building of its kind ever erected; in July, 1911, he presented to the Heather Club an extension to the pavilion for tubercul. children, in connection with the Lakeside Home; was elected a V.-P. of the Charities and Corrections Convention, 1911; an all-round amateur athlete, has been sometimes called "The Father of Amateur Hockey in Ontario"; was presdt. of the Ont. Hockey Assn., 1899-1905; sat for E. Toronto (H. C.), as an Ind. Con., pledged to oppose any govt. which would interfere with the Man. Sch. question and pledged to support the "Nat. Policy" and to vote for the general good of the country; according to Sir Chas. Tupper (q.v.), he was in all respects "a model member"; a Presb.; a devoted Imperialist. —291 Sherbourne St., Toronto; National Club.

Sellar, Robert, journalist; author.

B. Elgin, Scot.; for many yrs. ed. and propr. Can. Gleaner (Huntingdon, P.Q.); in this paper first appeared the stories, written by him, known as the "Gleaner Tales," which have since appeared in book form (2nd ed. 1895); some of these are based on actual incidents in the lives of the early settlers in the old Co. of Huntingdon, and the scenes of all are laid in the territory which forms the south-western extremity of P. Q., with the St. Lawrence on one side and the U. S. on the other; they display a high degree of literary merit; indeed, it has been said of some of them, that no Can. writer surpasses the author in his charm of narrative and delicacy of style; later, published "Hemlock: a Tale of the War of 1812," which is also a contribution to the semi-historical lit. of Can.; "The History of the Co. of Huntingdon and of the Seigniories of Chateauguay and Beauharnois from their First Settlement to the year 1838" (1888), and "The Tragedy of Quebec: the Expulsion of its Protestant Farmers" (1907); as a journalist, has been for many yrs. the accepted interpreter of the feelings and aspirations of the Prot. minority in Quebec; was the author of the pamphlet signed "Quebec Loyalist," describing "The Disabilities of Protestants in the Province of Quebec," which was published by the Equal Rights Assn. of Ont., during the agitation raised by Mr. Mercier's Jesuits' Estates Bill, 1888; of a letter addressed to Sir H. S., 1880-2; prof. of geol., Missouri Univ., 1882-7; state geol., Ga., 1888-93; now conducting geol. investigations in the W. I. and Central Am.;

is a fellow Geol. Soc. of London, Geol. Soc. of Am. and Am. Assn. for the Advanc. of Science; on leaving coll. assisted Dr. Robt. Bell (q.v.) on the Can. Geol. Survey; has been able to restore the outlines of the ancient Laurentian River and tributaries now drowned beneath the lake waters or buried under drift deposits in localities hitherto unsuspected; most of the changing physics of the Niagara River were discovered by him, as for example the original low descent of that river, with the drainage from the Erie basin alone—superior to Mich. and Huron Lakes—then emptying north-eastward through Georgian Bay into the Ottawa —and that the Erie basin originally drained into Lake Ont. by way of a buried valley through his native Dundas valley; from the discovery of these and other changing conditions was able to make the first computation of the age of Niagara Falls (32,000 yrs.) based upon their true history, and the first computation of the rate of rise of the earth's crust in the lake regions; his investigations have developed the evidence of stupendous changes in land and sea such as the oscillation of the eastern part of the continent to a height of 10,000 to 12,000 feet, and the connection between North and South Am. by way of the West India Islands in the early part of the pleistocene period; a contributor to *Trans. 1905; do. (do.), Univ. of Ottawa, 1906; do. (do.) St. Andrew's Univ., 1911; D.C.L. (do.), Univ. of Durham, 1910; m. Isabella Sophia (who has ably seconded her illustrious husband in his many acts and schemes for the benefit of his fellowmen; with her daughter, Hon. M. C. Howard, q.v., gave $100,000 to McGill Univ. for the erection of a new wing to the medical building; gave $52,500 to Queen Alexandra's fund for the assistance of the unemployed, and has given largely in other directions; presented, with her husband, to Queen Victoria, Windsor Castle, July, 1886, and to King Edward and Queen Alexandra, Buckingham Palace, Mch., 1903, and Apl., 1904; was present, with her husband, at the coronation of the two latter, and was also present, with her husband, at the coronation of their present Majesties, June, 1911; see Morgan's "Types of Can. Women"), d. late Richard Hardisty, Hon. H. B. Co.; when quite young entd. the service of the Hon. H. B. Co. as a cadet, coming to Can., 1838; he spent 13 yrs. of his life on the Labrador coast, and was afterwards stationed in the great N.-W., with whose after history and development he had much to do; promoted step by step through various positions, he became at length a chief factor; subsequently, he was named resident gov. and chief commr. of the Co. in Can., a position he held for many yrs.; as a public man he first came into prominence in connection with the insurrection at the Red River settlement (now included in the Province of Man.), 1869—being, in Dec. of that year, apptd. a special commr. by the Dom. Govt. to enquire into the circumstances connected therewith; he manifested great tact, prudence and ability in the discharge of the duties of his mission, and for his services received the thanks of the Gov.-Genl. in Council; in the following year, after the organization of the Province of Man., he was returned to the Legislature for Winnipeg and St. John; he was also called to the N.-W. Territorial Council, and was returned for Selkirk to the Ho. of Commons; in 1874 he resigned his seat in the Legislature, but remained a representative of the Province at Ottawa up to 1880, when he suffered defeat at a bye-election; he re-entered the political arena at the g. e. 1887, being then returned to the Ho. of Commons for Montreal West by a majority of 1,450; he was re-elected at the g. e. 1891, by a majority of 3,706; in Mch., 1896, during the last days of the Bowell Admn., he served as a del. to the Man. Govt., along with Messrs. Dickey and Desjardins (q.v.) in reference to the Sch. question; in Apl. of the same year he retired altogether from political life in Can., being then apptd. to represent the Dom. in London, as High Commr., an office he has retained up to the present time; he was sworn of the Queen's Privy Council of Can., Apl. 24, 1896; he was a commr. to the Pacific Cable Conf., London, Nov., 1896, and also attended the sittings of the Commercial Congress, held there in 1892, and 1896, and those of the Anglo-Am. Comn., Washington, D.C., 1898; at the outset of his public career he was a supporter of Sir John Macdonald, but went over to the Liberals at the time of the "Pacific Scandal," 1873; after Sir John Macdonald's return to power, 1878, he gave him an ind. support, principally in connection with his fiscal and ry. policy; although a Free Trader in Eng., and a Protectionist in Can., "he has always sought to free himself from mere partyism"; since he has been High Commr. for Can., he has studiously held himself aloof from politics; during the existence of the Imp. Federation League, he served as V.-P. of that organization for Quebec; he is now one of the Council of the Brit. Empire League; his name is indissolubly associated with the history of ry. development in Can. (see Hill, J. J., and Mount Stephen, Lord, q.v.); and Sir Chas. Tupper (q.v.) has placed on record his opinion that "the Can. Pac. Ry. would have no existence to-day, notwithstanding all that the Govt. did to support that undertaking, had it not been for the indomitable pluck and energy and determination, both financially and in every other respect, of Sir Donald Smith" (vide speech at St. George's Club, London, Jan., 1897); Mr. J. J. Hill has also said that "the one person to whose efforts and to whose confidence in the growth of our country our success in early ry. development is due, is Sir D. A. Smith" (vide speech at St. Paul, 1893); in acknowledgment of his services in this regard, Queen Victoria was pleased, in 1886, to create him a Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George; ten yrs. later, he was advanced to be a Knight Grand Cross in the same Order (being privately invested by Her Majesty at Windsor Castle); and in 1897, on the completion of the 60th year of her reign, the late Queen bestowed a further mark of favour upon him by raising him to the Peerage, as Baron Strathcona and Mount Royal, of Glencoe, in the Co. of Argyll, and of Montreal, in the Province of Quebec and Dom. of Can.; he was apptd. a G.C.V.O., 1908, and became a F.R.S., do.; was named a Knight of Grace of the Order of the Hosp. of St. John of Jerusalem, in Eng., 1910; in view of his many excellent acts of loyalty and service, more particularly the raising and maintaining entirely at his own expense of the corps of horse which bore his name, which did effective duty during the S. A. War, many would gladly welcome his elevation to a higher rank in the Peerage; one of the largest shareholders in the Bank of Montreal, he became V.-P. of that institution, 1882, presdt., 1887, and hon. presdt., 1905; was early chosen a gov. of the Fraser Inst. and of McGill Univ., and was elected chancellor of the last-named institution, 1889; has also been chancellor of the Univ. of Aberdeen since 1903; is likewise lord rector of the last-named institution; of other bodies with which he remains connected may be mentioned the Trafalgar Inst., of which he is a trustee, the Sailors' Inst. and the Highland Soc., the Paton Manfg. Co., the N. B. Ry., the Dom. Coal Co., the Northern Life Assur. Co. and the London & Can. Loan & Agency Co., of which he is a dir.; the Royal Col. Inst., of which he is a mem. of the council; the local branch of the St. John Ambulance Assn., the Montreal Natural Hist. Soc., the Brit. Empire League, the Dom. Rifle Assn., the United Empire Club, the Assn. of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Man. Ry., and the Brit. Assn. for the Advance. of Science, of all of which he is a V.-P.; the Dom. Sanitarium Assn., of which he was a founder, and is now presdt.; and the Players' Club, the Christopher Columbus Assn., the Can. National League, the Imp. Expn. Co., the Brit. & Foreign Sailors' Soc., the Intern. Commercial Assn., the Royal Trust Co. and the St. Andrew's Soc. of Montreal; is also chairman of the Can. Bd. of the London & Lanc. Life Assur. Co.; the Can. Bankers' Assn., the Winnipeg Rowing Club, of which he is hon. presdt.; is also hon. commodore, Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club; of other industrial, commercial, ry. and other similar undertakings with which he now has or has had to do in the past, it may be said that they are almost without number; in Dec., 1897, he was elected Chief of the Camanachd Club, of Grantown-on-Spey, Morayshire, and at the same time he acepted the presidency of the London Article Club for 1898; his Lordship has been a most generous patron of art; together with Lord Mount Stephen (q.v.), he endowed a Can. scholarship in the Royal Coll. of Music, London, and, subsequently, endowed a second scholarship on his own account; he paid $45,000 for Breton's painting, "The First Communion," the highest price ever paid for a modern picture sold at auction; he has also in his collection, which has been pronounced "the most catholic and abundant" in Can., examples of Raphael, Titian, Turner, Reynolds, Gainsborough, Romney, Millais, Rosa Bonheur, Constable, Constant, Alma Tadema, etc.; apart from other considerations, he will always be gratefully remembered in Can. for his unostentatious private charities for the relief of the distressed, and his princely munificence in other respects; on the occasion of the Queen's Jubilee, 1887, he, with Lord Mount Stephen, gave a million dollars for the building and endowment of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, which sum was supplemented in 1896 with a further donation of $800,000 for maintenance; to McGill Univ. alone he has given in all at various times the sum of over one million dollars, made up as follows: Current expenses, $8,000; Boodle Library, $200; T. D. King, Shakespeare collection, $1,000; books, French dept., $200; endowment of pension fund (Arts), $50,000; chair of botany, $1,200; botanic garden, $362; sessional lecturers, $23,500; Donalda endowment for higher education of women, $120,500; endowment of pension fund (applied science), $50,000; Leanchoil endowment (med.), $50,000; Campbell memorial, $1,500; endowment chair of path., $50,000; do. (dept. of hygiene), $50,000, and in 1911 $100,000 to complete the equipment of the new med. building; to the Trafalgar Inst. he gave $30,000; In 1896 he added to his benefactions by erecting and endowing, in Montreal, an institution to be known as the Royal Victoria Coll. for the higher education of women; $500,000 (given in 1909) towards the funds of the Univ., of which some $50,000 was for augmenting the salaries of the professional staff; of his more recent benefactions (and they are spread all over the land) has been the sum of $450,000 to promote the introduction of physical training and military drill into Can. public schs; he also gave $1,000,000 to King Edward's Hosp. Fund, $52,500 to Queen Alexandra's unemployed fund and $125,000 to Marischal Coll., Aberdeen; $50,000 to Aberdeen Univ.; $5,000 to the Archbishop's Western Can. fund, and as hon. chairman of the Western Comte. of the Can. Y.M.C.A., has given $150,000 to funds for Y.M.C.A. buildings in Man., Sask., Alta. and N.S.; in 1895 he purchased the Highland estate of Glencoe for a private residence; he was apptd. hon. lt.-col., Victoria Rifles, Montreal, 1898; hon. col., 8th V.B. King's Liverpool Regt., 1902; do. do. 15th Light Horse, 1909; and do. do. 79th Highlanders, 1910; was presented with the freedom of the city of Aberdeen, 1902; of Edinburgh, 1903; of Bristol, 1908; and of Bath, 1911; his name has been sometimes mentioned in connection with the Gov.-Generalship of Can.; was a close and intimate friend of Queen Victoria and King Edward, and his relations with the present monarch are believed to be no less friendly; in Sept., 1901, was the host of King George and Queen Mary (when Duke and Duchess of York) at Montreal; was present, by invitation, at the coronation of King Edward and Queen Alexandra, 1902; was one of the representatives of Can. at the funeral of King Edward, 1910, and again present, in a like capacity, at the coronation of King George and Queen Mary, 1911; is a mem. of the extve. comte. of the King Edward Memorial, London; has written "Western Canada before and since Confederation" (1897), "The History of the Hudson's Bay Company" (1899), and many other contributions to the periodical press; his portrait, by Oniess, was exhibited at the Royal Acad., 1890; another portrait, by Jongers, was presented to McGill Univ. by the govs. of that institution, 1901, and still another, to the Canada Club, London, 1902; is hon. presdt. of the Canadian Club and the Mt. "A strong, fearless man of really great ability."—Hon. John Murray, Premier of Victoria.

"Four years ago the colony of Victoria was in need of an able and experienced railway man to act as chairman of its railway commission, and the choice fell on Mr. Tait. The outlook when he took charge was poor in the extreme. For years the Government roads had been a constant drain on the colony's coffers, and even expert railway men said there was little hope of success. At the end of Mr. Tait's first year of work the deficit for the year was nearly $1,800,000. Last year the surplus was nearly $968,960, after all interest charges and other expenses had been paid. Besides this an old liability of three millions had been wiped out, freight rates had been considerably reduced, and it was recognized on all sides that the country was getting the best railway service in its history."—T. Globe (1906).

G., d. late Alex. St. Denis, Point Fortune, P.Q. (a lady of high intellectual attainments, who has herself won no inconsiderable reputation as a writer); served in 3rd and 5th Regts., Pa. Cavalry, Am. Civil War, 1864-5; entd. Queen's Own Rifles, Toronto, and served in Fenian Raid, 1866 (med.); P.L.S., 1872; later, D.L.S.; was for some yrs. a civil engr. on the Carillon Canal; chief ed. writer, Toronto Globe, 1879-91; ed. Youth's Companion, 1891-1901; since then has been engd. in genl. writing; is Ottawa correspondent for Boston Transcript; F.R.S.L., 1909; F.R.S.C., 1910; a frequent contributor to the press; author: "Old Man Savarin and other Stories" (1895), "Walter Gibbs, the Young Boss, and other Stories" (1896), "Between Earth and Sky" (1897), "Aucassin and Nicolette" (versification of M. S. Henry's transiation, 1895), "Peter Ottawa" (1908), "When Lincoln Died, and Other Poems" (1909), and "The Many-mansioned House, and Other Poems" (do.); politically, was bred a Tory and Free Trader; after the "Pacific Scandal" followed Mackenzie; a personal friend and great admirer of Laurier; has always favoured Can. ind. of Gt. Brit., preferring that the country should become an auxiliary or equal kingdom, by the monarch taking the title of Queen or King of Can., and being advised solely by native ministers in all Can. affairs; such a relationship to the Crown, he thinks, would make Can. as ind. as Eng. or Gt. Brit., and would be perfectly consistent, as history shows, with either Can. or Gt. Brit. remaining uninvolved in wars in which the other might be engaged; by this plan Canadians could retain the invaluable boon of responsible govt., the monarchical system and all the traditions of their race, and be joined in a peace league, but not in a war league, with the Mother Country; was strongly in favour of the Taft-Fielding reciprocity compact, 1911; a Prot.—360 Bronson Ave., Ottawa; St. Botolph Club, Boston, Mass.; Authors' Club, London, Eng.; Intercolonial Club, Boston.

Tupper, Rt. Hon. Sir Charles, physician; statesman.

E. s. late Rev. Chas. T., D.D. (Bapt.), Aylesford, N.S., and his first wife Miriam Lockhart (Low) T., Parrsboro', N.S.; this branch of the family is descended from Thos. Tupper, who emigrated to Am., 1635, landed at Sangus, Mass. (now called Lynn), and, 2 yrs. later, removed with others to Sandwich, in the same State, of which town they were the incorporators (see "Burke's Peerage"); b. Amherst, N.S., July 2, 1821; e. Horton Acad., and Edinburgh Univ. (M.D., 1843); D.C.L. (hon.), Acadia Univ., 1882; is also a LL.D. of Cambridge, Edinburgh, and Queen's Univs.; admitted a mem. of the Royal Coll. of Surg., Edinburgh, (1843); commenced the practice of his profession in his native co., and speedily secured an extensive business; entd. public life g. e. 1855, being then returned to the N. S. Assembly as mem. for Cumberland; the unsuccessful candidate was no less a person than the late Hon. Joseph Howe, then leader of the Lib. party in N. S., and afterwards Lt.-Gov. of the Province; in entering Parlt., the new mem. drew up and was allowed by his seniors to adopt a new, a more progressive and a more lib. policy; it is also recorded of him that, like Disraeli, he educated his party; he brought them round to take a more comprehensive view of affairs, attracted to himself the more moderate men of the opposite side, and with so much effect that, in the following year, the reconstructed party came into power, and "the young doctor," as he was called, became Provl. Secy.; from that time till the Confederation of the Provinces, 1867, was, perhaps, the most prominent figure in local politics, having succeeded to the Premiership in 1864; in the accomplishment of Confederation, and the establishment of the Dom. of Can. he bore a conspicuous part, attending the Charlottetown and Quebec Confs., 1864, and afterwards going to Eng., when the question was settled at the Westminster Palace Hotel Conf.; for his services in this regard was created a C.B., and, on the formation of the first Govt. in and for the Dom. of Can., was invited to take office therein, but waived his claim in favour of Sir Edward Kenny, to meet obstacles arising in other Provinces of the Dom.; was sworn of the Privy Council, June 21, 1870, taking the office of Presdt. of the Council; transferred to the Dept. of Inl. Revenue, July 2, 1872, he became Minr. of Customs, Feb. 22, 1873, and was still holding that office when the Macdonald Admn. resigned over the "Pacific scandal" in the autumn of that year; during the 5 yrs. that the Con. party was in Opposition, was Sir John Macdonald's principal organizer and adviser, and to no one was the Con. party more indebted than to him for their return to power in 1878; while in Opposition elaborated and brought before Parlt. the scheme of moderate protection for home industries, known as the "National Policy," which was subsequently adopted and put into force by the new Admn.; in that Govt. became Minr. of Public Works; afterwards he created the Dept. of Rys. and Canals, and was its first Minr.; as such, carried out the policy of the Govt. in reference to the enlargement of the Welland Canal, the deepening of the St. Lawrence channel, the improvement of the Intercl. Ry. (securing a surplus over the running expenses in 1880-81, 1881-82, 1882-3, and 1883-4), and the construction, by a private co., of the Can. Pac. Ry.; retired from the Ministry, May, 1884, and was, from that perlod, up to 1887, and again afterwards, the representative of the Dom. in London, as High Commr. for Can.; in the early part of the last-named year, as the general elections approached, was invited by Sir John Macdonald to return to Can.; he again entd. the Govt. and was Minr. of Finance therein up to May, 1888, when he resigned that office and resumed duty in London as High Commr.; in Jan., 1896, he entd. the Bowell Admn. as Secy. of State and leader of the Ho. of Commons, and on the retirement of Sir M. Bowell, 4 mths. afterwards, succeeded him as Prime Minr. of Can.; the policy of his Govt., as outlined in an address issued to the electors of Can., included protection to Can. industries, preferential trade with Gt. Brit., the strengthening of the national defences, the promotion of a fast Atlantic steamship service, the admission of Nfd., and the encouragement of a large and desirable immigration; after the defeat of his party at the polls, June 23, 1896, resigned office, and at the meeting of the new Parlt., in Aug., was elected leader of the Opposition, a position he filled till his retirement from public life after the g. e. 1900, when he was defeated at the polls; was for some yrs. presdt. of the Lib.-Con. Union of Ont.; was created a K.C.M.G., 1879, a G.C.M.G., 1886, a Baronet of the United Kingdom, 1888, and an Imp. Privy Councillor, 1908; is a fellow of the Royal Scottish Geog. Soc.; was formerly Surg.-Genl. of N. S., surg.-maj.

of the 1st Brig. of Halifax Arty., and became presdt., on its organization, of the Can. Med. Assn., a position he continued to hold for several yrs.; was formerly a mem. of the Extve. Council of the Imp. Fed. League (under Lord Rosebery), and is now a mem. of the Council of the Brit. Empire League; served as an Extve. Commr. for Can. at the Interni. Exhn., Antwerp, 1885, and at the Col. and Ind. Exhn., London, 1886, being also a Royal Commr. at the last-named exhn.; in 1887 was apptd. one of H.M.'s Plenipotentiaries to the Fisheries Conf., at Washington, which resulted in the signing of a treaty for the settlement of the matters in dispute between Can. and the U. S. in connection with the Atlantic fisheries; in 1888 was apptd. a mem. of the Royal Comn. for the purpose of carrying out a scheme for the colonization in Can. of crofters and cotters from the Highlands of Scot.; was also apptd. a Royal Commr. for the organization of the Imp. Inst., and was a gov. thereof; he represented Can. at the Intercl. Conf., Paris, for the protection of submarine cables, 1883, at the Internl. Conf., Brussels, relating to Customs, at the Internl. Postal Union, Vienna, 1891, and at the Internl. Ry. Conf., London, 1895; in 1893 he was apptd. a Plenipotentiary jointly with the late Lord Dufferin, and negotiated the Franco-Can. Treaty with M. Hanotaux, the late Foreign Minr. of France; commencing in 1858 was repeatedly presented to the late Queen Victoria; was also repeatedly presented to the late King Edward and his Royal Consort, both before and after their accession to the throne; was present, by invitation, in Westminster Abbey, at their coronation; was also present, by invitation, at the coronation of King George and Queen Mary, June, 1911; was received in private audience by His Holiness the Pope, Apl. 13, 1905, who "praised him warmly and gave him his special blessing"; was one of the original mems. of the Halifax Club, one of the original bd. of govs. of Dalhousie Coll. (1863); a V.-P. of the Can. Patriotic Fund (1900); a V.-P. of the United Empire Club, London, Eng.; an hon. life mem. of the Canadian Club, Boston, Mass., and first presdt. of the Crown Life Ins. Co., Toronto, 1901; his bust was executed by Bain Smith, and exhibited at the Royal Acad., 1892; among the public measures placed upon the statute book by him during his lengthened public career have been the following: In N. S., the jury law; the Education Act providing free schs.; the Equity Judge Act; the Windsor and Annapolis Ry. Act.; the representation Act; the Executive and Legislative Disabilities Act; and an Act reducing the number of Parliamentary representatives; in the Dom., the Weights and Measures Act; the Act prohibiting the sale or manufacture of liquors in the N. W. T.; the Consolidated Ry. Act, 1879; the Act granting a charter to the Can. Pac. Ry., 1881; and a great number of others; "the two aims he has always kept in view, as a loyal subject to his Sovereign, and as a jealous guardian of the honour of his people, have been the strengthening of the golden link which connects Eng. with the first and greatest of her colonies, and the holding aloft of the standard of right of the nation, so that she may prove herself worthy of the proud position she has made her own"; has been a frequent contributor to periodical literature, his contributions appearing in the Empire Rev., the Fortnightly Rev., the North Am. Rev., the Journ. of the Col. Inst., etc.; has also written several political pamphlets of note; the 50th anniversary of his marriage was celebrated with great rejoicing in Ottawa, Oct. 8, 1896; on that occasion Sir Chas. and Lady Tupper were the recipients of many warmly expressed messages of congratulation, and, in addition, were presented with many souvenirs of the happy event, including a solid gold epergne from the Con. mems. of the Senate, a solid gold salver from the Con. mems. of the Ho. of Commons, and a very handsome silver-gilt epergne from the Cons. of Halifax, N.S.; opposed to the Taft-Fielding reciprocity compact, 1911; a Forester; an adept at golf; an Ang.—"The Mount," Bexley Heath, Kent, Eng.; British Empire Club; Colonial Club, London, Eng.; Halifax Club, Halifax, N.S.; Manitoba Club, Winnipeg.

"A veteran—the hero of a hundred fights; Canada is proud of him."—V. World.

"In clearness and vigour of intellect and in statecraft he still towers head and shoulders over all his political associates."—M. Argus (1904).

"Next to Sir John Macdonald he is Canada's greatest gift to the galaxy of Empire builders whose dreams of forty and twenty years ago are becoming the accomplished facts of to-day."—M. Gazette (1900).

"A magnificent, if pathetic, figure of one who, a generation after his time, struggles manfully against superior forces, bearing on his bent shoulders burdens that were admittedly too heavy for his younger associates."—M. Herald (1900).

"His career goes back to the great days of Howe in Nova Scotia; his name is written across the whole story of Confederated Canada; stormy, impetuous, eager and audacious, although more than four score years have passed over his head, the smell of battle is still in his nostrils and the spirit of contention yet abides."—T. News.

"But I am here to speak my mind, and I believe I speak my mind and speak the fair judgment of my countrymen when I say that, next to Macdonald, the man who did most to bring Canada into Confederation was Sir Charles Tupper."—Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier: speech at the unveiling of the tablet, London, Eng., to the Fathers of Confederation, June, 17, 1911.

Young, Hon. James, statesman; author.

E. s. late John Y., who came to Can. from Melrose, Scot., 1834, and Janet (Bell) Y.; b. Galt, Ont., May 24, 1835; e. there and by private tuition; m., Feb., 1858, Margt. (see Morgan's "Types of Can. Women," 1903), 2nd d. late John McNaught, Brantford, Ont.; became connected with the press at an early age; was, from 1853, for 10 yrs., ed. and mangr., Dumfries (Galt) Reformer, and, later, an ed. contributor on commercial and statistical subjects to the Trade Rev. (Montreal) and the Monetary Times (Toronto), also to the Toronto Daily Globe on more general topics, such as "Can. Nationality," "Canada and Militarism," "Senate Reform," etc.; wrote, likewise, two prize essays: "The Agricultural Resources of Canada" and "The Reciprocity Treaty: its Advantages to the United States and Canada"; the latter was printed specially for circulation at the great Detroit Trade Convention, 1866, to which the author, in conjunction with the Hon. Joseph Howe, Hon. John Young, Hon. Isaac Buchanan, and other leading Can. public men, was invited; among his other publications are: "Reminiscences of the Early History of Galt and the Settlement of Dumfries" (1880); and a pamphlet, entitled "Our National Future" (1887), which takes strong ground against Commercial Union with the U.S. and Imp. Federation; it was a reprint of a series of letters that appeared originally in the Toronto Globe; these letters attracted widespread attention, as well in Gt. Brit. and the U.S. as in Can., and did much to give a quietus to the Commercial Union fad; among those who complimented the author on their production was Sir John Macdonald, then Prime Minister of Can.; in 1902 appeared his magnum opus, "Public Men and Public Life in Canada," which tells the story of the Confederation of Can., written in what the Toronto Globe declared to be "a fair and kindly spirit"; at an earlier period, produced a pamphlet on "The British Preference and Imp. Federation"; is well and favourably known as a public speaker, and has delivered many addresses and lectures in various portions of Ont.; among these was an address on "Can. Nationality: a Glance at the Present and the Future," delivered before the National Club, Toronto, during the winter, 1890-91; it was, with other addresses, published by the club in book-form, and is described as "a vigorous and eloquent argument, setting forth the progress and success of the Can. Confederation, strongly opposing any form of annexation, and advocating Can. nationality as the ultimate destiny of the Dom. and the best antidote to Americanizing tendencies"; is an hon. mem. of the Can. Press Assn.; a Lib., and one of Mackenzie's "Old Guard"; later, a follower of Edward Blake and Sir Oliver Mowat, and now a personal friend and admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier; as a young man, sat as a mem. of the Galt Public Sch. Bd. and the Co. Council; was returned for S. Waterloo (H.C.), at Confederation, and continued to represent the same riding up to 1878, when defeated; while there, was chairman of two of the most important standing comtes. of the House: Public Accounts and the Comte. of the Whole; among the more important of his legislative measures were the abolition of the old system of Queen's printer and the letting of all public and departmental printing by public tender; a bill confirming the naturalization of all aliens who had taken the oaths of allegiance and naturalization before Confederation; a bill in favour of the ballot, the Govt., however, finally taking the question up; the passage of addresses to Her Majesty in 1873 and in 1878, praying that the Imp. Govt. would confer on Germans and other aliens naturalized in Can. the same rights in all parts of the world as Brit. subjects enjoy; the appt. of a special comte. which resulted in the publication of the "Hansard" or Ho. of Commons debates; and resolutions in favour of the establishment of a Govt. Bureau of Statistics, which the Govt. agreed would be carried out; after his defeat, was presented by the Reformers of S. Waterloo with a handsome service of plate, in recognition of "his self-denying efforts as their representative at Ottawa"; sat for N. Brant (Local), g. e. 1879-86, declining re-nomination; was a mem. of the Mowat Admn., holding office as Provl. Treas. from June to Oct., 1883, when illness compelled his retirement; at Toronto, as at Ottawa, took a prominent part in the debates, especially on financial and business questions, and it was on his motion that the Govt. agreed to establish the Ont. Statistical Bureau, thus following the course on this subject which he previously had adopted under the Federal Govt.; his life has been active in other directions; for 11 yrs. ending 1881, he was elected presdt. of the Associated Mech. Inst. of Ont., and was thus an ex-officio mem. of the Provl. Agricul. and Arts Assn.; during this period, the Industrial and Arts depts. of the Provl. Exhns. were largely under his direction and control; on his retirement therefrom, he was presented by the Assn. with some valuable testimonials of its regard; was among the first presdts. of the Sabbath Sch. Assn. of Ont., and remains one of its V.-Ps.; was elected presdt. of the Reform Assn. or Ont., and was likewise chairman of the great Lib. Provl. Conventions held in Toronto in 1878 and 1893; for several yrs. was chairman of the Bd. of Trustees of Galt Coll. Inst., and presdt. of the Galt Hosp. Trust, and was instrumental in promoting the erection of the excellent hospital now possessed by the town; in addition to being on the directorate of the Confederation Life Assn. and the Landed Credit and National Invest. Co., has been also, since 1877, presdt. of the Gore Fire Ins. Co., hon. presdt. of the Galt Cricket Assn., and continues to take an active interest in all that concerns Can. and the prosperous town of Galt and vicinity; his name continues to be frequently mentioned in connection with a seat in the Senate; a Presb.—"Thornhill," Calt, Ont.

Whitelaw Reid, American Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and later pays an unofficial visit to President Taft, at Washington, Jan. 22, 1912; in a speech at a banquet tendered him at Washington he said he fully agreed with the cordial references of the Secretary of State to the nature of the relations which now exist and ever will exist between the United States and the British Empire. As Governor-General of Canada he felt that he might give assurances that whatever political or party changes might take place in Canada, there had not been and would not be any intention of indicating any feeling other than that of closest friendship with the American people. The Duke concluded by saying that he had much enjoyed the opportunity given him by his visit of making the acquaintance of the head of the American State, of its President, Mr. Taft. The welcome which the President had given him had still further increased his satisfaction at obtaining the opportunity of meeting him. It was therefore his very great pleasure to have the honour of proposing the health of the President of the United States.

Newfoundland

The Norway of the New World

A land of surpassing beauty and of rare interest for the traveller

For the photographer, the artist and the lover of the beautiful in nature, its attractions cannot be exaggerated. Its dependency, LABRADOR, exceeds in its picturesque natural panoramas the much-praised Fiords of Norway.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

Abounding in game of the finest, in fin, fur and feather. Lordly Caribou in countless herds. Rivers teeming with salmon. Lakes filled with trout. Forests alive with birds and furry creatures. All sport free, except Caribou hunting, which requires a license fee of $50 (£10), and salmon fishing, which involves a rod tax of $10 (£2).

FOREST, MINE AND FARMLAND WEALTH

Splendid opportunities to acquire lands for Farming, Mining, Lumbering and Pulp and Paper Making on reasonable terms, with generous concessions from the Government of Newfoundland in the way of free entry for all machinery and equipments requisite in establishing new industries.

Copper and Iron Mines in active operation.

Saw Mills cutting extensively of lumber for export.

Two of the world's largest Paper Mills recently established.

For information respecting Sport, apply to A. W. Piccott, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, St. John's, N.F.; respecting Lands to S. D. Blandford, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, St. John's, N.F.; and otherwise to—

HON. R. WATSON, Colonial Secretary, St. John's, Newfoundland.

New Brunswick

The Land of Comfortable Homes

Is this year harvesting the best crops of Grain, Roots and Fruits in her history, and there is a quick market for all farm products

Land values are extremely favorable. Now is the time to invest.

The whole province is opened up by railways and navigable rivers. The port of St. John, from which seven lines of transatlantic steamers sail during the Winter Season, is less than one week from Britain.

New Brunswick Fruit and Vegetables are of highest quality. Crop failures are unknown.
